NOTICE TO VENDOR:

ISP is a screening platform that provides a safe and confidential way for individuals to take a brief screening. The questionnaire incorporates the PHQ-9, a 9-item standardized depression screening scale, as well as questions about suicidal ideation and attempts, problems related to depression. Individuals who submit the questionnaire receive a personal written response from a campus counselor, offering options for follow-up evaluation and treatment. AFSP's Interactive Screening Program is the only online screening system that offers users a personal assessment by a program counselor with training specific to the target population. In addition, no other system provides the opportunity for the follow-up anonymous communications between the user and the counselor. These features are ideally suited to engaging individuals with barriers to help-seeking and connecting them with the appropriate resources and services. In addition, no other system provides the opportunity for follow-up anonymous communications between the user and the counselor in accordance with HIPPA requirements.
